Electronic Communications with Kristina Jackson MFT

Please read the following disclosures about electronic communicating with Kristina Jackson MFT:

1. Email and texting are a non-secure and non-confidential form of communication. Hackers and unauthorized users can attempt to access electronic communication through malicious software or a virus that may be located on your computer, tablet or phone unbeknownst to you.
2. Many people still feel comfortable communicating via email or texting because they have installed firewalls or other programs designed to detect spyware, viruses, or other dangerous software. However, there is no guarantee that such programs will work 100% of the time.
3. Sent and received emails are stored on both Kristina Jackson's and your computer until deleted. Kristina Jackson may or may not delete such emails. Generally, mundane emails (questions about appointments, billing, etc) will be deleted while other emails may be kept for archival purposes. Any such saved emails will be kept in a password-protected account that only Kristina Jackson has access to.
4. In addition, whenever you send an electronic communication, it is stored in cyberspace and the authorities can access these emails under various circumstances – this is not a policy of Kristina Jackson, but is due to the nature in which electronic communication is transmitted using the internet and other services or networks. For more information on this, please contact your Internet Service Provider.
5. Kristina Jackson will use email to respond to emails that you send her. If you request that your billing statement be emailed to you, she will do so.
6. As a rule, Kristina Jackson does not conduct therapy via email. However, she may use email to handle certain questions/issues that pertain to therapy and related content if they can be easily and simply handled over electronic communication. She may also choose not to use email to handle such matters. She will tell you if this is the case.
